This one-day workshop will:

- ❖ promote and support a national conversation around the AC:L
- ❖ provide opportunities to become familiar with the structure and key elements of the AC:L
- ❖ provide suggestions and samples of various approaches to planning with the AC:L
- ❖ examine a range of unit plans to identify useful approaches to programming
- ❖ stimulate thinking about and opportunities to engage with the curriculum materials to inform planning of learning and teaching programs relevant to your learners and context
- ❖ provide teachers with a balance of theory and practice through language specific exemplification
- ❖ support teachers in beginning to plan for and trial the curriculum in classrooms around Australia
- ❖ link with the AFMLTA and AITSL Professional Standards and provide a certificate identifying standards addressed

Ready?Set?Plan builds on the 2015 AFMLTA Professional Learning Program Ready?Set?Go! and is informed by the feedback and requests from teachers for further Professional Learning around the Australian Curriculum for Languages. Attendance at Ready?Set?Go! is not a pre-requisite for involvement in the 2016 program.

Register online NOW to be part of this national Professional Learning opportunity!
